

YOUR TEAM'S SUCCESS BLUEPRINT

How Knowing Your Neuroscientific Design Impacts Personal and Professional Results

How would your company change if you...

Could accurately identify your team's overall innate purpose, special gifts and blind spots?

Knew which team members to tap for specific projects, positions, and career tracks?

Had access to a powerful and accurate assessment tool that helped you manage and lead more effectively while increasing engagement, productivity, and retention?

Jayne Sanders will present provocative details and examples about the fascinating, life-changing technology of Scientific Hand Analysis featured in a FORBES article about her and the accuracy of this work.

It is NOT palm-reading nor predictive. Many coaches use this profound, complex, and comprehensive tool. Leaders and employees use the words mind-blowing, shockingly accurate, amazing, and life-changing to describe this neurotechnology assessment tool.
